BİLGESAM

1st Foreign Policy and Security Summer School (online), 07-09 September 2021, Istanbul/Turkey

Turkey is located at very critical geography. On one hand it is a NATO member and strategic partner of the USA. On the other hand, it is in the neighborhood of the regional powers like Iran and Russia which both of them play extremely important role at the contemporary world politics. Furthermore, Turkey has border with the Middle Eastern countries in which there is a continuous civil warand turmoil. Located in such critical geography, Turkey should develop effective foreign policy which not only can prevent Turkey from potential security threats but also can bring peace and security to the whole region.

The Foreign Policy and Security SUMMER School is organized by BILGESAM (Wise People Center for Strategic Studies)- one of the leading think tanks of Turkey. BILGESAM is a private, non-profit research center that cooperates with well known international research centers and institutions. The Summer School will include all aspects of Turkish Foreign Policy, main actors of policy-making processes, institutes and Turkey's relations with regional and global powers. Regional security topics such as Turkey's role on the Middle Eastern security, Black Sea security, security of the South Caucasia, are also in the agenda. Furthermore, courses on regional energy security issues and Turkey's energy policies also will be lectured.
